Straight From My Heart

by Diane Wilson

Category: Inspirational / Christian / Poetry

Audience: Adult, church groups, grief support readers

Short Description:

Straight From My Heart is a heartfelt collection of poems shaped by love, loss, and unwavering faith. After losing her son Jake and later her husband Charley, Diane Wilson turned to writing as a way to process grief and hold onto hope during life's most difficult moments. Through honest words and quiet reflection, she shares the emotions that come with loss while also pointing toward healing and renewed strength.

The poems are drawn from personal memories, prayer, and a lifetime of experiences that speak to the resilience of the human spirit. Each page carries a message of comfort, reminding readers that even in seasons of sorrow, faith and love can guide the way forward. Straight From My Heart offers encouragement and reassurance to anyone walking through grief, searching for peace, or simply needing a reminder that they are not alone.

Why it fits your shelves:

- Strong appeal for faith-based readers
- Ideal for church groups and gift purchases
- Encouraging resource for grief and recovery

THE ART OF BECOMING

by Joel Espinoza

Category: Religion / Christian Living / Personal Growth

Audience: Adult readers

Short Description:

The Art of Becoming is a powerful and deeply personal story of faith, healing, and transformation. In this honest and heartfelt book, Joel Espinoza shares his journey through trauma, hidden struggles, shame, and doubt, revealing how God meets us not at our best, but in the middle of our brokenness.

Through real-life experiences and spiritual insight, Espinoza reminds readers that their past does not define them and their struggles do not disqualify them. Instead, every scar, detour, and difficult season can become part of a greater story of redemption.

Encouraging, authentic, and deeply relatable, The Art of Becoming invites readers to see their lives through a new lens and discover that God is still shaping their story into something meaningful and beautiful.

Why it fits your shelves:

- Relatable and honest testimony that speaks to readers facing shame, regret, or personal struggles and looking for hope and healing.
- Strong appeal for Christian living and inspirational readers, combining personal story with faith-centered encouragement and spiritual growth.
- Encouraging message of redemption and purpose that reminds readers their past does not define them and that transformation is always possible.

THE TICKET

by Cecilia Wichmann

Category: Contemporary Suspense / Small-Town Thriller

Audience: Adult readers, book clubs, regional interest readers

Short Description:

Rachel Mercer lives a quiet life in Wills Point, Texas, working the phones at a call center and keeping mostly to herself. One ordinary stop at a convenience store changes everything when her Powerball ticket wins 1.8 billion dollars. Overnight, privacy disappears. Rumors spread online, strangers begin watching her home, and danger starts closing in. With help from trusted allies, Rachel must learn fast how to protect her finances, her identity, and her future while deciding who she can trust and who she must leave behind.

Set in recognizable East Texas towns and locations, the novel blends suspense with small-town realism and has been especially popular with readers who enjoy local settings and relatable characters.

Why it fits your shelves:

- Regional interest title set in East Texas
- Ideal for book clubs and community reading programs
- Strong appeal for readers of clean suspense
